GLAD FOR MCKAY BUT HILO LOSES, SAYS NEWSPAPER

Hilo People Will Miss Active Worker If Promotion Comes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
HILO, Nov. 24.—When the news reached Hilo this week that William McKay would likely succeed Superintendent Sheedy of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, an open secret that has been burning the souls of several people for months past, became public. The news was received by the people not "in the know" with mingled feelings. They were pleased to hear of popular "Pete" McKay's possible well-deserved promotion, and yet the thought that he might be leaving the town where he has resided for the past 18 years caused a pang or two. Men like William McKay are not plentiful and everybody felt that if he left the town there would be a gap hard to fill.

Then, after the first news arrived, came the next question: Who will succeed McKay if he goes to Honolulu? Rumor has it that P. T. Phillips, known all over the islands as "Pete," will step into the shoes of McKay. This is looked upon with great favor by the shippers and traveling public who know how popular "Pete" has proved to be while acting as purser of the good ship Mauna Kea. Of course it is not absolutely settled that McKay goes to Honolulu, but it looks that way, and that would, in all probability, mean that Phillips would succeed the present manager of the Inter-Island company's branch office in Hilo.

William McKay will be sadly missed in Hilo, where he has ever taken a very active interest in all things pertaining to the public good. He is just rounding out his term as president of the Hilo board of trade, and he has proved to be an excellent executive officer. During the past year the board of trade has accomplished a great amount of work and it has been put through with despatch. As chairman of the fifth civic convention committee, Mr. McKay carried out a most successful campaign of 8 months or so and wound up everything in a blaze of glory that is still spoken of whenever a Hilo man meets a resident of any of the other islands.

REV. C. H. McVEY WINS FIGHT FOR CLEANER KALIHI

Owner of Alleged "Vice House" Found Guilty; Pastor Suggests Clemency

SUSPENDED SENTENCE IS GIVEN AGED WOMAN

Kalihi Union Church Minister Had Secured More Witnesses for His Case

Rev. C. H. McVey's crusade against vice in the Kalihi district, directly adjacent to his church, has so far been successful.

This morning in police court the old Hawaiian woman, Kakalina, whom the pastor and prosecuting attorney caused to be arrested as the owner of one of the disorderly houses, was found guilty of conducting a disorderly place. Upon recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Chillingworth, acting on a suggestion from Mr. McVey, the defendant was given a suspended sentence by Police Judge Monarrat, who warned her not to allow drunken persons on her premises in the future or to make her place a common nuisance in any way.

On the witness stand both Rev. McVey and his playground athletic director, Sergt. Long of Fort Shafter, told of several instances of disorderliness at the Kakalina place. McVey said he had driven a negro soldier away from the place once with a club and at another time had thrown one over the fence. The pastor said they never came back.

The prosecution had several more witnesses to introduce this morning to testify to the disturbances at the place, and Attorney W. J. Sheldon for the defense also had more witnesses but both rested their case when McVey said he would be content with a suspended sentence on account of the defendant's age.

"I don't want to see the old lady suffer," he told Chillingworth, "but I do want the rough stuff done away with in that neighborhood. I believe if she is found guilty and given a suspended sentence that the effect will be a discontinuance of disturbances. At least I hope so."

Yesterday afternoon the territorial grand jury, which is investigating vice conditions, was anxious to have McVey before it and had a two-hour search for him, but he was nowhere to be found. As a matter of information, the militant pastor was out securing statements from men and women willing to testify as to vice at Kalihi. He sent a copy of these statements late in the afternoon to Deputy Attorney Chillingworth, declaring that the witnesses named were willing to appear in court and substantiate his own statements.

This morning Chillingworth informed the pastor that he was pretty sure of getting a conviction and the witnesses would not be needed. As it turned out, they were not.

Today, on reading in the morning paper that he was wanted as a witness before the grand jury, McVey went to court and left word that he would appear at any time the jury wished to hear from him.

JURY STILL OUT IN MURDER CASE; SPEND NIGHT YOUNG HOTEL

Up to press time this afternoon no verdict had been returned in the case of Takimi Tateishi, charged with the murder of Oliver Pankahili, late second mate of the steamer Maui. The case went to the jury at 7:25 o'clock Friday evening and at 8:15 the members went out for a lunch. At 2:05 o'clock this morning no verdict had been reached so Detective Harry Lake accompanied the jurors to the Alexander Young hotel where they went to bed.

After breakfast at 8:15 o'clock this morning the jurors returned to court and deliberated until noon, laying case into court several times to have testimony read. Eight forms of verdict have been handed the jurors.

MARSHALLS, CHARGED WITH INJURY, MOVE FOR TRIAL BY JURY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
HILO, Nov. 24.—When the case against James Marshall and George Marshall, Jr., was called in the police court yesterday morning the defendants who are charged with malicious injury, demanded through their attorney, J. W. Russell, a jury trial. They were, accordingly, committed to the next sessions of the circuit court.

The case arises through the claim that is made by the representatives of the American Surety Co. that the accused men removed certain parts of the tug Printer and of a locomotive which rendered the steamer and the engine useless.

CAMP IS BROKEN AND GUARDSMEN START FOR HOME

Friday Night Given Over to Entertaining Regulars By Citizen Organizations

SUNDAY MORNING WILL BE CAMPERS' PAY DAY

Brilliant Scene Presented at Review By Governor and Brigade Commander

(Staff Correspondence by W. H. Johnson, Private, Machine Gun Company, National Guard of Hawaii.)

NATIONAL GUARD CAMP, Red Hill, Nov. 25.—Happy because the week of hard training is over but sorry to leave the camp on Red Hill, which will long remain in their memories as the scene of one of the most pleasant occasions of their lives, the men of the 1st Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii, made merry Friday night, for at 2 o'clock today they started on the return march to Honolulu and are due to arrive in the city about two hours later.

After a week of maneuvers in which many problems of actual warfare were worked out, the end came Friday afternoon with a grand parade on the plateau above the camp, and it was a sight that stirred the patriotism of every one who witnessed it. All day a drizzling rain had fallen out of a leaden sky, but as if in honor of the occasion, the sun burst forth and shed its rays on the smiling faces of the men and the rifles sparked as beams after beam ran along the ranks. The three battalions of the regiment were drawn up abreast, facing the west, and the Pacific, smiling under the new-found sun. Facing the regiment were Governor Lucius E. Pinkham, Brigade Commander S. I. Johnson, Col. Croft and a number of other high officers of both the National Guard and regular army, and on the left a long line of automobiles filled with visitors, while over all hung a beautiful rainbow against a gray-blue sky, and it seemed to gather the whole in its radiant embrace.

Regiment is on Review
First, as soon as the regiment was in place the band, playing the "Director's March," marched once back and forth in front, then Maj. Rose, Neely and Johnson, rode forward and saluted the officers, following which after a short manual of arms, the parade started. Back and forth with flags flying they marched, executing difficult maneuvers, and all without a hitch and with the precision of regulars which showed how well the sergeant instructors from the 2nd Infantry, U. S. A., had drilled them. And then, just as the sun sank into the Pacific, the lines swung into a column of squads and headed back towards camp along the sky line at the opposite side of the field, a picture which brought forth a sigh of admiration.

WEST POINTERS RUSH MIDDIES; TALLY 15 TO 7

Cadets Make All Their Points in First Two Periods; Two Touchdowns; Field-Goal

NAVY COMES BACK IN BRILLIANT FASHION

Hammers Way Down Field, Blocks Kick, Then Ingram Takes Pigskin Across Line

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 25.—West Point's team of veterans, with such stars of the gridiron as Oliphant and Vidal, defeated the Middles from Annapolis today in a wonderful battle, by the score of 15 to 7.

The first two periods looked all Army. The West Pointers had made 15 tallies at the end of it, and many football critics were beginning to call it a runaway, but the stout-hearted men of the Navy "came back" with a vengeance, scoring a touchdown and holding the Army without another tally during the afternoon.

The Army began the game considerable favorites. The two teams were evenly matched as to weight, but the Army had more veterans and more veteran stars.

The crowd was huge and the military note was strongly dominant. Secretary of War Baker and his party occupied the main box in the Army stand, while Secretary Daniels of the Navy and his guests were in the Navy stand.

The president was unable to appear, owing to a slight cold.

Army began with a great show of strength and speed in the first period. Oliphant, the West Point right half, aided by his team-mates, smashed the line, and skirted the ends for a touchdown and followed this shortly afterwards with a place kick. He had previously missed the chance at a goal after the touchdown, so that the score at the end of the first half was 9 to 0 in Army's favor.

In the second half, Army again scored. Vidal, Oliphant's running mate at left half, showed a flash of speed in going through the Navy for a touchdown. Oliphant again missed the goal, and Army now had a lead of 15 points.

Navy Comes Back
It was in the third half that the plucky Middles came back, battered but determined. They opened up with a series of skilful maneuvers which soon had the Army trying vainly to stop them. Keeping the cadets on the defensive, never giving them a chance to carry the ball, the Middles began a line-smashing game which was splendidly diversified with end runs, dashes off tackle and forward-passing. It was a wonderful reversal of form, and while it lasted the Navy took the ball from its own 5-yard line to the Army's 25-yard mark.

Here the Army held, taking ball on downs. An Army man went back to punt the oval out of danger, but Ingram, the speedy Annapolis half, shot through the Army's defense and blocked the kick. He picked up the spinning ball and dashed 20 yards to the goal-line and a touchdown. Reifel, the Navy guard, then kicked goal and the score was 15 to 7.

Army played a safe game in the last period, kicking the ball into the Navy's territory whenever possible.

BLUE BATTERS WAY FOR SCORE AFTER FUMBLE; FINAL 6 TO 3

Gates Recovers Dropped Ball on Harvard's 13-Yard Line, Eli Goes on to Touchdown

HARVARD SCORES FIRST ON GOAL FROM FIELD

Robinson Boots Oval Across Bars Early in Game, Only Tally for Crimson

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 25.—Yale's sturdy sons turned the tide of football battle against Harvard today in a game of skill and brawn and grit which kept the largest crowd that ever saw an intercollegiate athletic event in the country tense with expectation from the first to the last whistle.

By a score of 6 to 3 Yale reversed the unfavorable decisions of years past and sent the Crimson warriors home beaten—but not disgraced. It was one of the many close contests between these teams, staged as the premier event of the gridiron season. Harvard scored in the first period on a field goal. In the second Yale scored a touchdown. The goal was not made.

Then, with the score 6 to 3 in Yale's favor, the battle went for two more periods, very largely in the center of the field, with Yale using strategy and skill to play safe and keep Harvard from scoring distance. Thanks to effective punting, this policy won.

The two big teams trotted out on the smooth field in the Yale bowl shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon and ran through a few practice signals, both appearing in splendid fettle. The weather was fine, contrary to advance predictions. The footing was considerably faster than had been expected, the ground having dried during the morning.

Harvard Scores Early
Harvard scored in the first period when Percy Haughton's team got the ball within striking distance of the Yale goal and Robinson, the Harvard back, whose toe has contributed to a Crimson victory several times this season, fell back of his line and sent a nice field goal across the Yale crossbar, making 3 points.

In the second period Yale got a touchdown—the first touchdown, by the way, that Yale has made against Harvard in nine years.
Harry Legore, the big Yale right halfback, started to hit the line on a play directed just off the end. He fumbled the ball. It dropped forward play directed just off the end. He fumbled the ball. It dropped forward and rolled to Harvard's 13-yard line, with Yale left tackle, flung himself on the oval and held it, and it was Yale's ball.

With only 13 yards to go, the Yale team gathered itself for a supreme effort, while the stands went wild with excitement. The Yale quarter called for short, driving plays, taking no chances on risky maneuvers. Two or three yards at a time, Yale battered the ball across the Harvard line. Goal was missed and the score stood 6 to 3. The touchdown was made by Left Half Neville.

Yale Resorts to Punting Game
In the third and fourth periods Yale adopted a punting game, particularly in the last session, to keep the ball in Harvard territory. Once in the third period, when Yale for a while started to carry the ball down the field, another score for the Blue seemed probable. Harvard stiffened the defense on the 8-yard line.

All Pencils Sell Before Noon and $700 is Raised

Over $700 was realized today in the initial pencil selling campaign conducted by the Honolulu Hospital Flower Society. Not one of the total stock of 7000 black and gold striped crayons remained this afternoon and Mrs. Alonzo Gartley said that three times as many could have been sold. At least 10 cents was given for every pencil although several donated without taking one. And many paid more than a dime for the little offering, which bore the inscription, "Remember the Honolulu Hospital Flower Society." Over 50 women and girls were at work and many were disappointed because the supply of pencils was exhausted so soon.
